ONE OF THOSE IMPRESSIVE out-sized envelopes with instructions on how to open on the outside and a report to be filled out on the inside arrived at the office the other day.

Y'know the kind we mean.. on the outside in red ink yet: "TO OPEN--Tear off red stub, peel back each page of this set".

Followed by this additional information, also in red ink, "Read instructions on page 1...prepare worksheet... page 2, remove page 3 from the set...complete page 3 (use worksheet as guide)... "Remove tape from right side of page 3, fold over and seal... "Return page 3 (self mailer) within 3 weeks.."

We have no fault to find with all that except it was unusual to find so many instructions on the outside.

There also was this admonition (black ink) "ATTENTION: SAFETY DIRECTOR ...This envelope contains a report form which you are required to file under provisions of the Williams-Steiger occupational safety and health act of 1970 (Public law 91-596)."

Then in big brash letters: "1972 OCCUPATIONAL INJURIES AND ILLNESSES SURVEY"...

Admittedly in this day and age, filling out forms and reports should not be considered unusual. Forms and more forms have become the thing.

But this one was almost TOO impressive.

AND Y'KNOW WHAT REally got us?

And we quote from the directions signed by Margaret R. O'Grady, chief, division of labor statistics and reserach:

"You have been selected to participate in the nationwide Occupational Injuries and Illnesses Survey for 1972. Under the Occupational Safety and Health Act, your report is mandatory." It may be mandatory, but we think in our case it was also ridiculous.

BUT WE FOLLOWED THE instructions.

After all, we had been "selected".

After doing our research and following the equations, etc., we reported that "average employment during 1972" was "9".

Big deal.

And then after multiplying, dividing, subtracting and whatever, we submitted that these nine employees worked 16,297 hours during 1972.

And, of course, that is not absolutely accurate.

Y'see, our estimate was based on the theory that George, Sally, Brent, et al, work 40 hours per week.

Frankly we haven't the slightest idea of how many hours we work per week. hours we work per week.

And you know something? We really don't want to know.

-0-

BUT TO GET BACK TO the issue at hand.

Why The Campbell Press was "selected" is 'way beyond our comprehension.

But we noted that "Establishments are selected for this survey on a random sample basis with varying probabilities depending upon size".

In a sort of smug sort of way, we can, of course, point with pride then that our "selection" proved something.

What, of course, is something else again.

But really, we did learn something about our own operation.

Out of the 16,297 hours (estimated) worked by the nine (average) employees of The Campbell Press during 1972, there was not one single hour lost because of recordable injuries or illnesses on the job.

At least, that's what we came up with after following

AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Dell Avenue industrial park gets final boost next Monday

Development of the long-awaited industrial section on Dell Avenue and Division Street is scheduled to get the final go-ahead signal at the City Council meeting next Monday, April 9.

Contracts for street improvements, street lights and curbs and gutters are scheduled to be awarded by the Council under the provisions of Local Improvement District No. 17. Bids for the project were opened this week.

At next Monday's meeting, the Council is also expected to discuss the disposition of the city-owned engineering building at Third and Grant, when the public works department moves out after the completion of the engineering wing at the city hall.

To bring the building up to code, city officials have discovered, would be a costly undertaking. However, if the property is sold, the funds must go to recreational purposes, according to the deed.

The Youth Advisory Commission, in a letter to the Council, has recommended that the property be sold and funds be used toward the construction of a community center at Rincon Park.

The Council, next Monday, is also scheduled to hear the appeal of Gold Seal Realty from a Planning Commission ruling denying a use permit for the conversion of the residence at 492 Nottingham Way, into an office.

Former Councilman Bill Smeed, a San Jose attorney, is representing the real estate firm.

On the agenda next Monday also is the request of Syzygy to have 20 coin-operated amusement machines at the Bodega.

AT LOCAL RESTAURANT

Planning Commission insists that sign must stop rotating

It was "get-tough-night" at the Planning Commission meeting Monday when four applications before that body were turned down flatly.

One of the denials was an application for a rotating sign for a restaurant; two were for conversion of residences into offices and the other was for a side yard setback for a residence.

Carrow's Restaurant, at 1228 Camden Ave., was denied permission to rotate the free-standing (but non-turning) sign that had been approved originally. Under the pending sign ordinance, rotating signs are not allowed and previously such signs were against city policy.

Despite the plea of Al Ruffo, San Jose attorney appearing for Carrow's, that the rotating sign was preferable to a higher elevated one, the commissioners unanimously denied the request and directed City Attorney Bob Dempster to issue a municipal citation. The restaurant has 10 days to appeal the ruling to the City Council.

The Planning Commission also denied the request of Carl McGee to convert two residential buildings at 34 and 42 W. Campbell Ave. into office use.

The denial followed a report by Art Kee, planning director, that the conditions of the use permit granted in September, 1972, specifying the removal of several other buildings on the premises, had not been followed.

McGee told the Commission that building plans were being prepared for a new office to replace the buildings and the old buildings would have to be removed before construction could start. But the plans would not be ready for 90 days.

However, the commissioners pointed out that the matter had originally come before them nine months ago. The city attorney was also directed to initiate abatement proceedings, subject to appeal to the City Council.

Similar action was taken on the application for a use permit by Serafina Chinazzo to allow the conversion of a residence at 2290 Winchester Blvd. (at Kennedy) into office use.

Kee explained when it was first noticed that the single-family residence was being used as an office by Rental Finders Realty, Inc., a notice of violation was sent to the occupant.

The zoning on the parcel was changed from R 1 [illegible] C-2-S in December, 1972, and the owners had been advised that a use permit and approval of plans would be required.

At the continued hearing on the matter, the application of Vernon A. Heisinger, at 74 S. Jane Ann Way, for a side yard to allow a carport was turned down, based on the staff's report that a variance was not needed.

In other actions, the Commission approved the application of L. W. Bitney for a warehouse/office at 503 Salmar and for a warehouse for

IN CAMPBELL ELEMENTARY DISTRICT

Robert Fricke, college staff member, seeks trustee post

Robert G. (Bob) Fricke, 40, one of the nine candidates seeking one of the three positions open on the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board of trustees on April 17, is chairman of the social science division of West Valley College.

Fricke came to the college when it opened in 1964 as an instructor in social science. Previously he had taught in colleges in Bakersfield and Sonoma and at Santa Clara University.

Fricke was born in San Francisco and was educated in the Bay Area, receiving both his bachelor and master's degrees from the University of California at Berkeley.

Fricke and his wife, Melanie, live at 235 Prince St., Los Gatos. He is a former member of the Los Gatos Parks Commission.

In his statement, Fricke submits: "I am running for trustee because I sincerely believe that quality and equal education for all children requires the responsible and cooperative efforts of the district trustees, the administrators and faculty and the community.

"As a board trustee, I would strive for a governing board plan of action, whereby we would meet and resolve educational problems and issues collectively rather than individually.

"The main challenge is to develop a list of educational priorities from which the board could make decisions relative to its educational philosophy and priorities.

"Using my professional background in education, I would work for a harmonious and constructive approach toward quality education and elimination of harmful and unnecessary diviseness. I see the need to foster full communication among all segments of the district's educational community, including the board, administration, faculty and the public.

"In terms of specific programs, I strongly favor guidance services, special education approaches, and multiethnic curriculum.

"I believe that my educational background and professional experience would serve me well as an independent and open-minded trustee of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board."

Residential conversion

Among the many sticky problems from time to time that face the Planning Commission, and eventually the City Council in most cases, is the conversion of residential buildings into office use.

Under the city ordinance, a residence can be converted into office use upon approval of a special use permit. Conditions in the use permit specify the parking and building code requirements that must be met by the applicant.

Historically in this city, residential conversion has always been a bothersome one.

Originally there were no controls and any residence could be turned into a business or office, provided it was in the proper zone. That is, if a residence, for example, was in a commercial zone and the owner or occupant wanted to make an office or store out of it, it was simply a matter of doing it, period.

Obviously that was not too satisfactory for varied reasons.

In some instances, some of the conversions that resulted might have been described as "quaint." But in the majority of cases, they were unattractive.

Then for a period of time, the city pendulum swung the other way and ANY and ALL such conversions were prohibited.

But that prohibition also proved unsatisfactory because it was too strict. It was subsequently lifted as it did work a hardship in some cases.

So the present ordinance was adopted which allows conversion of residences into offices, provided a use permit is granted with certain specific conditions that must be met.

A number of abuses of the city conversion procedure have occurred, either intentionally or unintentionally.

Residences have been "converted" in some instances without city approval. The owners, in a few instances, have claimed they did not know there was any need for city approval.

In other cases, a use permit may have been applied for and approved, with the provision that the plans for the remodeling must subsequently be submitted for approval.

But in some instances, months have gone by and no plans have been submitted, although the residence is in use as an office.

Because of these abuses, a recent City Council policy was adopted which specifies that no use permit application for conversion of buildings will be processed by the city, if the building is occupied in violation of the existing zoning code.

We are well aware of the many ramifications involved in this conversion policy of the city.

In some instances, the individual applicant for the conversion of his residence into an office has been sincere and conscientious and has made a definite and determined effort to meet the city regulations.

Unfortunately, there have been other cases where it appears that the applicant has deliberately attempted to circumvent the city regulations.

Thus considerable unfairness has developed in the residential conversion procedure in the city.

It has been found, for example, that in some cases, there have been property owners who have continued to use their residences as offices without meeting the conditions of the approved use permit.

On the other hand, there have been individuals who, after receiving approval of the necessary use permit, have met all the conditions that have been levied before even moving into the building.

Obviously it is grossly unfair to allow such a condition to exist in the city.

Why should one property owner be given preferential treatment, intentionally or unintentionally, because he has not met the city regulations?

Just because a property owner is occupying a residential building and using it as an office while ignoring the conditions of the use permit, should not give that individual any priority.

But it has happened.

And that is how the unfairness of the current procedure has developed.

We are not advocating the eviction of property owners from their buildings, if they are violating city regulations because of a misunderstanding that may have occurred over the interpretation of city ordinances.

On the other hand, we maintain that city ordinances must be enforced fairly.

We realize that hardships can occur because of the strictness of city policies.

But it also must be emphasized that it is to the property owner's advantage to know what can be or what can't be done, legally, BEFORE any action is taken.

FURNACE - FROM - THE-Sky...We were disappointed recently when there was a change in the plans for the installation of the furnace on the roof of the engineering wing at the city hall.

We had been alerted by Wally Byron, city building official, that the furnace was to be dropped in place from the air via helicopter...

We thought that would be quite novel and we made arrangements to pictorially record the action when it occurred.

Later, Wally informed us that there had been a change by the furnace people in plans and it would be installed in the conventional manner by crane.

We have long been aware of the many uses of the helicopter and we suppose dropping a furnace into place on a rooftop might be considered routine in some circles.

But how many times has it happened in Campbell?

-0-

CREATURES OF HABIT.. Recently we received a two-page typed memo from a medical doctor.

It had been typed on the M.D.'s letterhead by his secretary.

The memo dealt to some extent on a legal matter and the word "injunction" was used.

Only the secretary typed it "injection".

After all, we imagine she had probably never had any reason to write "injunction" before.

But "INJECTION" was something else.

And we suppose the situation would be just the reverse for a legal secretary. See what habit can do?

AT THE CITY'S COMING-of-age birthday party, one of the highlights of the program was the impromptu talk by Bill Wren, public works director, who took the mike to call attention to the importance of the public works department.

With witty and good-natured jibes, Wren explained that the police and firemen were always lauded for their activities while the public works people were generally overlooked.

He pointed out that it was the public works people who maintained the streets so that the cops and firemen could ride smoothly on their errands of mercy. He cited other "examples" of how the public works people were slighted.

Wren brought down the house when he concluded by describing the sanitary engineer role his department had been assigned in a community parade last year. There were a number of horses in the parade, he added.

He said they had been kept very busy during the parade because they had somehow managed to get in the wrong spot. They found they were following the fire department and not the horses.

THE CITY'S BIRTHDAY party, incidentally, was one of those pleasant, casual, folksy affairs that all of us enjoy from time to time as a change of pace. It was a cooperative affair with many civic groups taking part. The West Valley Progressive Seniors, for example, acted as gracious hostesses.

We thought their name plates were especially fitting, "SENIOR POWER."

Every mayor who has served the City of Campbell during its 21 years of cityhood was present.

There have been 12 mayors.

Unfortunately, Charles Rose had to leave before the group photo of the mayors was taken, so only 11 were pictured for posterity.

We wonder how many cities could boast of a record like that..We mean having all the mayors present at one time.

And what is even more unusual is that all but three of the 12 mayors are still residents of the city.

We suppose this could illustrate that 21 years is not a very long time, comparatively speaking, that is.

But to some it is an eternity. It's all relative, we suppose.

INCIDENTALLY, WHEN Bill Wren was directing all those good-natured barbs at the police and fire departments and claiming that the public works department was overlooked when it came to getting credit, he missed the opportunity to give his department a plug.

Furnishing accordion music for the birthday party was Frank Palermo, a city employee.

From what department?

Public works, of course.

Where was Wren on that?

-0-

OCCASIONALLY WHEN we are home for a late lunch, we flip on the television and catch one of the soap operas that has been running for years.

We are always amazed that no matter how much time has elapsed since the last time we had seen one of the episodes, it is comparatively easy to pick up the continuity of the action, or lack of same.

In other words, we figure that, if one misses one episode, it is no big deal.

But apparently the steady viewers don't look at it thataway.

When some of the soap operas were preempted by the POW's films, apparently a big fuss was made by some of the soap opera fans.

They preferred fictional drama to that of real life.

You figure that out.

Citizens goals committee to hear city's finance report

Members of the Citizens Advisory Goals Committee at special meeting in the council chambers next Tuesday, April 10 at 7:30 p.m. will be briefed on the city's projected financial condition for the next fiscal year.

City Manager Bob Stephens and Jeff Whittaker, finance director, will review the preliminary report on estimated income and expenditures for 1973-74 that was presented to the City Council at a study session on Monday of this week.

The financial report will be available to the various subcommittees and task forces of the citizens goals committee and will be of assistance in the filing of the various reports and recommendations by the end of April. The reports must be submitted to the steering committee by May 4.

The Citizens Advisory Goals Committee last Wednesday presided over by Bob Peck, vice-chairman, heard progress reports from several committees.

Peggy Pack, chairman of the sub-committee on physical design and environment, reported that her committee wanted to up-date the city's zoning ordinances and also emphasized that the city should strive for a high quality in design of new buildings and improved landscaping techniques.

She added that the committee felt that the number of living units per acre now allowed should be lowered and a review should be made of the types of businesses that could come into the city.

Carl Samuelson, chairman of the industrial and residential balance sub-committee, reported that his group was studying the possibility of eliminating the city treasurer's office and also researching the advantages and disadvantages of a city-owned water company.

Norm Glover, chairman of the recreational sub-committee of the people-oriented programs section, emphasized the need for recreational coordinator for the city as did Barry Green, chairman of senior citizens-youth-social services task force.

Jeanette Watson, of the cultural task force, headed by Masel Sheehan, reported that their group had focused in on how the lower level of the new library is to be used. She explained that the room could sit about 100 people and could be utilized for meetings, lectures and other civic purposes.

John Faber reported on the activities of the traffic circulation and public transportation sub-section and Homer Hyde, of the intergovernmental relations section, was studying the countywide communication system as well as the 911 emergency system.

Planning

Martin and Martin (requested by Grover Risner) at 1400 Dell Ave.

Approved also were the plans for a two-story office building at 700 W. Hamilton for Carl N. Swenson Co.

Plans call for a 37,632 square foot building on a site containing 116,305 square feet. Because more parking was allowed than required, it was recommended that the landscaping be increased.

James A. Smith was given approval for a six-unit apartment at 892 Michael Drive and Luis Pina was granted a variance of five feet (instead of 10-feet) for an industrial building planned for 533 Union Ave., in a CM zone.

JOINT EFFORT --- City Manager Bob Stephens (left) and Mayor Bill Podgorsek presented awards to six city employees who had been on the city's payroll for 15 years or more. The awards were given at the luncheon on March 28, marking the city's 21st birthday.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan (above) was especially honored by the mayor and city manager (left) for her services to the city over the past 20 years and for her ability to work with city officials.

Mrs. Trevethan was appointed city clerk shortly after the city was incorporated in 1952 and has been elected to five four-year terms.

Speaking OF taxes

by Pat Safford, vice president of the Greater Bay Area chapter of the Assn. of Enrolled Agents

Q–MY HUSBAND REFUSES TO TAKE ALL OF OUR DEDUCTIONS THIS YEAR BECAUSE HE'S AFRAID THE GOVERNMENT WILL QUESTION OUR RETURN. I THINK HE SHOULD TAKE EVERYTHING WE HAD EXPENSES FOR. IS HE RIGHT?

A-Right, no. Human, yes. Every year thousands of individuals, intimidated by accounts in their newspapers of tax fraud cases, fail to take their legal deductions for fear the IRS will not allow it.

The fact that the IRS, and the state taxing agencies have helped foster this attitude doesn't help either.

The IRS isn't standing behind you looking over your shoulder as you make out your tax return. They have millions of returns to process and thousands of bona fide fraud cases to investigate.

The individuals, like your husband, that are intimidated into not listing all of their deductions are the real casualties of the government's publicity campaign.

CHANCE OF AUDIT

While it's true that certain deductions, large casualty losses for example, increase your chances of an audit, that does not mean that you should over-pay your tax to avoid the possibility.

Each person with taxable income has an obligation to file his return and to pay his taxes...but only those taxes he owes. Not a cent more. It is not cheating to spend time finding as many deductions as you can to minimize the amount of total tax you pay each year. You certainly do not consider your local school district guilty of any wrongdoing when they try to keep expenses at a minimum by seeking as many sources of extra revenues as they can (such as federal programs, multi-district agreements, etc.). In fact, if they did NOT explore every avenue to keep the school budget at a minimum you would probably consider them lax.

If you should have an unusually high deduction for last year, such as a $4,100 casualty loss for example, you might rest a little easier, and save time later, by attaching additional statements.

Example: You had your home burglarized and $4,100 in cash and valuables were stolen. An attached list with the losses itemized and your method of determining their value, plus a copy of the police report filed on the case, would certainly not hurt the processing of your return. This would not guarantee that the return would not be audited but it might help in the case of a visual scan. The auditor, seeing the large casualty loss, might find that you have already attached the information that he or she would have requested in the first place and pass the return along without any further contact.

Passing the Buc

By Lynne Hermle

"Yes, I am a Communist," disclosed Radovan Cobeljic, Yugoslavia's soft-spoken consul general. "There are over one million members of the Communist party in Yugoslavia today, (approximately 20% of the total population) but not all are active party members."

Mr. Cobeljic visited Campbell at the request of Foreign Exchange Club--one of the ten consulate generals invited. He spent the day speaking to Mr. Petrianos' history classes.

"There is a big difference between Russian socialism and Yugoslavian socialism," explained Mr. Cobeljic. "Yugoslavia has what is known as democratic socialism, whereas Russia does not. Our companies are allowed to produce and invest their products as they wish, as long as they obey the law." Freedom of the press, drug problems and women's lib in Yugoslavia were also discussed by interested onlookers.

"I wanted more information to come out," declared Mr. Petrianos, Foreign Exchange Club advisor and history teacher. "This was the first time we've had a member of the Communist party on campus, and I considered it quite a rarity for Campbell High School. However, I felt that Mr. Cobeljic was slightly afraid to express himself, or maybe could have been a little more dynamic."

In my opinion, the invitations to the consulate generals were a great idea. Anyone interested or dynamic enough to show up at lunch time might have learned a few things. Unfortunately, not too many did.

PANDORA'S BOX TO OPEN

Monster Mash, Summer of '42, and Of Cabbages and Kings? Seems like a slightly unorthodox combination, but these are only three of the numbers to be presented at Campbell's first annual dance show on Thursday, April 5, 8 p.m. in the CHS auditorium. The show has been named "Pandora's Box," and will be performed by the fourth period female dance class, under the direction of Mrs. Judy Riva, P.E. teacher.

"It's kind of an accumulation of all the projects the fourth period dance class has been doing all year," explained Mrs. Riva. Seventeen groups will take part in the show, and the dances will range anywhere from comedy to serious modern performances, complete with appropriate costumes. Tickets are 50 cents to students and $1 for general admission.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Thursday, April 5: Baseball with Branham, varsity here, frosh-soph there at 3:30.

Pandora's Box, Campbell High's first annual dance show, will be presented in the CHS auditorium at 8 p.m.

Friday, April 6: Come to the "carnival" to be sponsored by the PTA on the Campbell campus on April 6, 7 and 8. Stupendous rides, game booths (and all those other things you never really outgrew) will open Friday evening. Come and give it a try.

Tuesday, April 10: Varsity Baseball with Los Gatos there, frosh-soph here. (Have you deduced by now that baseball games are always held on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:30?)

W.D.D.F.Y. OF THE WEEK

This week's whoop-de-doo award goes to Dave Buell, Campbell senior.

Dave was chosen to represent Campbell in the science and math category of the annual Bank of America Achievement Awards, and captured third place - a check for $75. He competed against outstanding students from this district and was judged on grade point average, extracurricular activities, and the students' response to interviews by a ten-man panel. Dave gave me a sample of the questions he answered, and in my opinion he deserves a medal! Phew! Well, anyway, here's to you, Dave.

NEXT WEEK: Don't miss the scintillating scoop on the scary subject of sexism in schools!

TO HELP YOU FEEL ACQUAINTED

- We believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.
- That righteousness is simply "rightness".
- That there is no one that is righteous.
- That through faith in Christ's death for us, God forgives our past sins.
- That through this forgiveness we can have fellowship with God, person to Person.

Westmont Open Mouth

PAUL & MS. MAUREEN

(Macierz) (Hillyard)

Ms.: Paul! Did you know that it's Campbell's anniversary?

Paul: Really?! How long have they been married?

Ms.: The city's been around for 21 years.

WHERE'S THE CRAYONS?

This Saturday, April 7, Westmont's super seniors will dance and be merry at Saratoga Country Club.

"Color My World" is the theme with music provided by Gropus Cackus.

Bids for the Senior Ball are $8.00 with the exclusive senior affair lasting from 8:30 to midnight.

The event is semi-formal, so put on your top hat, straighten out your white tie, dust off your tails. Girls...pull yourselves together, too.

Paul: You're kidding! Only 21 years? That's nothing for a town!

Ms.: Paul, it's still nothing.

RAH-RAH-SIS-BOOM-BAH!

Monday, Tuesday and Thursday of last week the rah-rahs for the '73-74 season were picked.

Cheerleaders, lettergirls and songgirl positions were open, with a greater number of applicants than in past years.

Westmont's new Varsity cheerleaders are: Vicky Athearn, Nancy Gerth, Patty Borello, Nora Tooey and Katie Riggle.

J/V cheerleaders are: Charlene McConnel and Tammy Laurraux.

Songgirls picked were Jannette George, Jackie Demarest, Theresa Sutherland, Sherri Tounger.

Lettergirls for '73-74 are Nancy Riggle, Julie Tounger, Theresa Papa and Raylene Cupps.

Paul: They're getting ready for Christmas earlier and earlier every year.

Ms.: What are you talking about?

Paul: They've got the Peace on Earth sign up on the PruneYard Towers already.

Ms.: They're making them into city landmarks.

Paul: Like the Rock Shop?

UPCOMING EVENTS, NEWS AND GOSSIP

Upcoming swim meets are against Branham Friday there at 3:30, and next Tuesday, the 10th against Saratoga there at 3:30.

The Frosh/Soph dance is this Friday night and for freshmen and sophomores only. This is because the underclassmen do not have a dance of their own.

Ms.: Charles Wong, mailman-at-large, where were you on the night of March 21 when Mrs. Evon Tison was busily being murdered?

Paul: (Disguised as Charles Wong, mailman-at-large.) Well, Marvin Boolie, I was on trial in my government class.

CLARENCE DARROW NEVER HAD IT SO GOOD

In Mr. Cripes senior government classes for the past week or so students have been learning the methods and procedures of jury trials.

In the third period class, a murder trial was in process. Maureen as co-defense attorney learned the ways to lead witnesses, badger witnesses, how to object and use a rubber hose.

Paul, as witness Charles Wong, mailman, learned how to fill gaping holes in his testimony, perjure himself on the stand, and learned the thrill of confessing to a passion murder.

In sixth period your reporters learned that jurors cannot object or ask questions.

Ms.: You're on the yearbook staff, aren't you?

Paul: Right off.

Ms.: Are we getting the four-page spread we asked for, for our work in this NEWSpaper?

EGO CORNER

Ego Corner is cheerfully tattooed on the 1973 Poniard staff.

This great yearbook team is advised by Karen "Lady" Wagner and threatens to have put together the best yearbook in Westmont history.

(The staff informs us that because a page layout cost is $100 and our combined income is 36¢, 1 ducky button, and an old hallowe'en cookie, they cannot meet our demands.)

Paul: Maureen! There's at least one fantastic new thing about Campbell!

Ms.: What?

Paul: Us.

Church group reaches out to the community

Members of the St. Lucy's Outreach Committee devote one or two hours weekly to one of several service activities of the group.

Among activities are transportation, visiting the aged and emergency food services.

Under the leadership of Darrell and Dolores Weichenthal, committee coordinators, volunteers are assigned to a chairman who heads one of the special concern areas.

Father Henry serves as group advisor and St. Lucy sisters assist the group.

Pat Raiche, food chairman, receives many emergency calls for food and she immediately puts into motion the procedures for the selection and delivery of the food, donated by St. Lucy parishioners. Last year some 130 food baskets were delivered during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. In addition, over 400 toys and gifts were given to St. Catherine's Parish in Morgan Hill for their annual Christmas Party.

Transportation Chairman, Ann Sompson, receives many calls for rides for the elderly who need to see physicians and several who visit Stanford Medical Center for cancer treatments.

Evelyn Simon, chairman for visiting the aged in convalescent homes, and her volunteers this past Christmas purchased and wrapped bottles of lotion which were given to patients in over a dozen convalescent homes in the Campbell area.

Clothing Chairman, Jean Paris, has at her disposal volunteers who help repair and sort clothing which is available for familes in need.

More volunteers are being sought for the program and those with a few hours to spare weekly are urged to call Darrell Weichenthal at 356-1466.

OUR TOWN

by JoAnn Zoller

Spring is apparently travel time for residents of "our town" with some...

Traveling for business...

DAN FURTADO, of Latimer Avenue, attended the national meeting of the Veterans Administration Clinical Pharmacy Study group in New Orleans last week...

DICK SKAVDAHL, of Radcliff Drive, recently returned from a two week trip to Tokyo on behalf of General Electric. Dick said he was glad to get home to California smog--it seems you can't see the air pollution in Tokyo but you can taste it, smell it and it definitely affects your breathing...

Traveling for fun...

MRS. BERTHA JENSEN, of Borchers Dr., and MRS. FERNE HICKMAN, of Plummer Avenue, just returned from a 30 day cruise to the Caribbean on the luxury liner Hamburg. Among places visited along the way were Puerto Vallarta, Acapulco, the Panama Canal, and Caracas, South America...

MARILYN DOLEZAL, of Parkland Avenue, enjoyed a week's stay in Hawaii, where she was vacationing with her mother-in-law, MRS. GINA DOLEZAL of Ronan, Montana...

GEORGE and LORENE VAN SICKLE recently returned from a ten day trip to Baja, California where they were vacationing with the Leland Dauberg's of Morgan Hill. Lorene said the weather was fabulous and they enjoyed shelling, fishing and sunbathing as well as sightseeing...

MOVING

Many Campbellites will be interested to know that MICHAEL and VIRGINIA COLUMBO, formerly of Campbell, are preparing to move to Mazatlán, Mexico where their daughter Jean has resided since her marriage to Jesús Garcia in November. Their son Michael is in recruit training for the navy in San Diego...

BOUQUETS

Congratulations to MARILYN KIRBY, of Saint Lawrence Drive, active member of the Church of Christ of Campbell, who was awarded the San Jose JayCee Distinguished Service Award for the Outstanding Young Woman of the year. In addition to her church work, Marilyn is active in the Junior Women's Club, the Auxiliary at Good Samaritan Hospital, the Red Cross and is roommother at Bagby Elementary School...

Let's hear a cheer for the Archbishop MITTY High School STAGE BAND, who received a superior rating in their performance at the Reno Jazz Festival March 23-25.

The 25 talented musicians, under the direction of FRANK ODDO, will be performing at the Monterey Jazz festival this summer...

Best wishes to MR. and MRS. CHARLES BRADLEY of Old Orchard Road, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, March 24...

THIS AND THAT

Friends of CHARLES PAICE, a long-time member of the United Methodist Church of Campbell, will be happy to learn he is doing much better following his recent surgery and was released from the hospital last week...

IDA PRICE SCHOOL will have a pie and coffee social hour 6:30, Tuesday, April 10, with open house following at 7:30...

The Native Daughters of the Golden West Parlor 81 had an unusual initiation recently when they welcomed three members of the same family into their group. Initiated into Parlor 81 was GLADYS GALE, her sister MRS. BARBARA PUCKETT and Mrs. Puckett's daughter MRS. ROBBIE WALKER.

MRS. WILLIAM GALE, mother of Gladys and Barbara, was on hand as a visitor during the ceremony. Mrs. Gale is a lifetime member of San Fernando Mission Parlor 280.

PHARMACY PHACTS

Recycling tip: use old prescription jars for storing leftover nails, nuts and bolts at your workbench.

Cold, dry weather outdoors and dry overheated indoor air rob skin of moisture. Too-frequent bathing in very hot water is also said to take its toll.

Ladies who wear high, tight boots may be troubled with swollen veins as a result.

The closely-related senses of smell and taste become less acute in people over 65.

Palm reading is becoming an important diagnostic tool. Some doctors say that abnormal creases in children's palms may signal defects elsewhere in the body.

When your doctor prescribes the best, we do the rest, at the pharmacy with the "bedside manner."

HOMETOWN CARNIVAL

If you see a man stepping off distances and making chalk marks in the parking lot of Campbell High School this evening, don't be surprised and don't think that there is to be new construction.

He is George (Bud) Butler, who with his son Earl (Butch), owns Butler Amusements. As he makes his chalk marks, truckloads of odd looking equipment pull up and stop over these marks.

In his mind he knows just how much space to leave for each ride, from center to fence line and between each ride. To one side he marks locations for the several games of skill.

This weekend they play "at home." Butler Amusements is not only Campbell's only carnival, but the only carnival based in the Santa Clara Valley. They are also the largest fund raising organization for charitable purposes in the valley. Sponsored by many schools and clubs, they have raised thousands of dollars for playground equipment, visual aids and recreational needs.

LIVE AT HOME

The popular concept of the "carny" is a gypsy, constantly on the road. This is not true. Except for a few weeks during the summer when the show plays fairs in the Shasta region, most of their dates are in the San Jose area.

As most of the people on the show live in Campbell or in the Campbell area, they are in their own homes each evening. Their kids go to Campbell schools and patronize Campbell merchants. They also are merchants, merchants of FUN.

Like any good merchant, to be successful requires good quality equipment and well maintained equipment. This requires constant inspection and painting. During the slower winter months, various rides may be seen set up in their winter quarters on Farley Road in Los Gatos. Parts are being replaced or new parts are being added to make the ride safer or more efficient.

Most of today's rides are trailer-mounted and set up hydraulically. This requires a certain amount of engineering skill. As most rides fall into a $40,000-$50,000 price category, they can't be trusted in the hands of just anybody off the street.

One particular ride that will be set up at Campbell High School this weekend cost $150,000 and requires two trucks to move. This is the thrilling "Flying Bobs."

GROCERY BUSINESS

How does one get into the "carny" business? In the Butlers' case it sounds very much like the little boy who dreamed about owning a carnival and the dream came true. For many years the Butlers owned a grocery business in Austin, Minn. In 1960 they bought their first kiddie ride and the "sawdust" got into their veins. 1967 saw them buy a major ride, a Scrambler. The following year they sold the grocery business, their homes and bought four more rides. At this time Butch moved to Campbell and they managed a unit of the now defunct West Coast Shows.

His father, Bud, moved to Campbell in 1970 when they decided to go on their own. Their winter quarters then were down the street from the Campbell Press office. We watched them come and go each week until they grew too big for the small piece of land they were on.

They found an old construction company yard off University Avenue in Los Gatos, above Vasona Reservoir, and this became the new winter quarters for the show. In less than a year this is also becoming too small.

From a start of one small kiddie ride 12 years ago, the show now carries 27 rides. All rides are not set up each week and at this time of year it is split into two units to play schools and other fund-raising programs. During the summer the whole operation is combined for the larger fairs and Butler Amusements now ranks as one of the top shows on the West Coast.

SURVEYING---George (Bud) Butler and his son, Earl (Butch) discuss layout problems at a recent location for the Campbell based Butler Amusements. Space limitations, light poles and parking curbs all cause problems in setting up a carnival. There should be no problems this weekend at Campbell High School.

Three West Valley College instructors honored as outstanding educators

Three West Valley College instructors have been chosen as Outstanding Educators of America for 1973.

Nominated earlier this year for this national recognition, DeBoyd Smith, John Nicholas and Gloria Hom were selected on the basis of their professional and civic achievements.

Outstanding Educators of America is an annual awards program honoring distinguished men and women for their exceptional service, achievements and leadership in the field of education.

Smith teaches in the biology department and has been with the college since 1964. He recently conducted research of marine plankton at the Pacific Marine Station of the Pacific, Dillon Beach, Calif. This research resulted in the text book "A Guide to Marine Coastal Plankton" which has a supplementary text, in addition to color slides used as illustration materials.

Nicholas is an instructor in the physical education division and park management program and also serves as head football coach. He has been with the college since 1969. He received the Wayne Goddard Award while attending Southeast Missouri State as the most valuable lineman. In his first year as head football coach, Nicholas took the Vikings to the Camino Norte Conference championship and the state play-offs.

Mrs. Hom has been teaching in the political science department since coming to the college in 1971. She served as editor of the publication "Chinese Historical Contributions to Santa Clara County." As the daughter of a career diplomat, Mrs. Hom has lived in Malaya, Phillipines, Thailand, Taiwan and the China Mainland, and has traveled through Southeast Asia, Asia, the Far East, Middle East, Europe, Africa, Australia and South America.

REVENUE-SHARING

Revenue-sharing funds received by the City of Campbell ($193,000 has already been deposited by the city to date) will be used for one-time expenditures or for construction purposes, the City Council has decided.

The Council is expected to officially adopt such a policy next Monday, April 9, in order to give guidance to the Citizens Advisory Goals Committee.

HAPPY 21st BIRTHDAY

GREETING CARD TEAM—Second grade students at Rosemary School made the greeting card which hung in the fire station on Central Avenue when civic leaders, chamber of commerce members and city employees gathered last week to celebrate the City of Campbell's 21st birthday. The young artists, members of Mrs. Barbara Dunton's class, were more than willing to pose with their winning greeting.

THEN WE'LL HUFF AND WE'LL PUFF....Two young men who participated in the ceremonies which marked the birthday celebration of the City of Campbell were also asked to blow out the candles on the cake provided by the food services department at West Valley College. Jim Berryessa, closest to the camera, is a sixth grade student at St. Lucy's School and made the winning individual greeting, which was selected for the party. David Brown, with full checks, represented Barbara Dunton's second grade class at Rosemary School, whose gigantic poster was selected as best group effort.

TAX DEADLINE

Deadline for paying the second installment of local property taxes is Tuesday, April 10, warns County Finance Director Edward N. Glaeser.

He explained that each year many homeowners find themselves paying a penalty of six per cent more and $3 for each property because they failed to pay by April 10.

The deadline does not apply for any owner who pays his property tax as part of the house payment to a mortgage company or to those who paid their full tax bill on December 10.

Pair take drugs in hold-up

Happ's Prescription Pharmacy, 281 E. Hamilton Ave., was robbed at gunpoint last Friday by two suspects, who escaped with a small amount of cash and narcotics.

According to reports, owner Joseph Allen was confronted by a young man wearing a brown leather jacket and beige watch-cap brandishing a revolver. A few minutes later, he was joined by the second suspect described as thin-faced, wearing a dark beige jacket, who demanded to know where the money was kept. The owner was ordered to lie on the floor while the men made their escape. The pair got away with about $100 in cash and drugs.

COULD LOSE $200

About 50,000 Santa Clara County homeowners are running the risk of losing $200 apiece this year, County Assessor Dwight Mathiesen warns.

That many homeowners have so far neglected to file their annual claim with the County for a homeowner's exemption
